DRAFT AGREEMENT

Draft agreement for the publication of the proceedings of the First International Workshop on Neutrino–Nucleus Interactions in the Few GeV Region (NuInt01), in the PROCEEDINGS SUPPLEMENTS to Nuclear Physics B

1. The First International Workshop on Neutrino–Nucleus Interactions in the Few GeV Region (NuInt01), has been held December 13-16, 2001, KEK, Tsukuba, Japan. Elsevier Science B.V., hereinafter called “the Publisher,” will publish the Proceedings of NuInt01 in the PROCEEDINGS SUPPLEMENTS to Nuclear Physics B (page format 19 x 26 cm). The pagination of the Proceedings will be the same in any edition and the Proceedings will appear as a special (but consecutively numbered) volume of the PROCEEDINGS SUPPLEMENTS.
2. The Guest Editor(s) of these Proceedings will be Prof. Jorge G. Morfin(jorge@fnal.gov), Prof. Makoto Sakuda(sakuda@neutrino.kek.jp) and Prof. Yoichiro Suzuki(suzuki@suketto.icrr.u-tokyo.ac.jp), whose names will be printed on the cover of that particular volume. The Guest Editor(s) will see to it that all contributions are refereed in accordance with the standards set by the Editors of the journal.
3. The Guest Editor(s) will inform the Authors that papers will not be accepted if they have been published elsewhere.
4. The Proceedings will be produced from author-prepared camera-ready copy, and the Organizing Committee will undertake to ensure delivery of the complete camera-ready typescript, as has been specified in the “Notes for Editors” of the Proceedings, including preliminaries, to the Publisher not later than June 31,2002.
5. The typescript will consist of invited papers in the English language. The Guest Editor(s) may also include some additional introductory material. The total length will be approximately 350 printed pages, and, in any case, will not exceed 500 printed pages.
6. The cost for reproduction of colour pages is as follows: €640.00 for the first colour page, €320.00 per colour page thereafter. These costs will be borne by the author(s) of the contribution in which the colour pages appear. The author(s) of a contribution containing one or more colour pages will jointly receive 100 complimentary offprints of that contribution. In case authors wish to include colour pages in any contribution(s), the Guest Editor(s) shall inform them of the financial arrangement indicated above.
7. To ensure maximal and even quality of the Proceedings, the Publisher will send the CRC instructions in PDF format by e-mail to the contributors. The instructions will consist of camera-ready typescripts, offprint order forms and detailed typing instructions which will be utilized by the contributors in the preparation of their manuscripts. For this purpose, the Organizing Committee will provide the Publisher with a list of contributors’ names and their e-mail addresses.

For those computer-producing their camera-ready manuscripts using the latex macro package, an ESP-Latex style manual will be provided in order that the appropriately formatted output results.

The Guest Editor(s) will check and, if necessary, arrange for improvement of the language and the technical presentation of the camera-ready typescripts.

8. The Publisher will publish the Proceedings as soon as possible after the complete typescript is forwarded to his office and will undertake publication of the journal edition within three months after receipt of the complete manuscript as has been specified in the "Notes for Editors," provided the deadline mentioned under point 4 is met.
9. The Organizing Committee will order in bulk copies of the Proceedings for all the participants directly from the Publisher. The minimum bulk order will be 100 copies. The Organizing Committee will place their order no later than the actual date of submission of the complete manuscript.

The special reduced price per copy of 350 printed pages or less is €43.00 (hardbound journal edition). In case the size exceeds 350 printed pages, this price will be adjusted proportionately to the actual number of pages, in units of €1.00. Prices quoted are exclusive of any V.A.T. or taxes applicable. V.A.T. will be included on the invoice unless the customer has provided ELSEVIER with his V.A.T. registration number.

Upon publication of the Proceedings, these copies will be mailed to the registrants by the Publisher via priority mail, without extra charge. For this purpose, the Organizing Committee will provide the Publisher with a list of names and addresses on self-adhesive labels.

10. The Organizing Committee may order additional copies of the Proceedings at the participants' rate for special purposes excluding re-sale. This order will be combined with the order for the participants.
11. After completion of the distribution, the Publisher will send an invoice for the copies ordered, as mentioned under points 8 and 9 above, to the Organizing Committee (which is in this case represented by Prof. Makoto Sakuda), who will pay the amount within 4 (four) weeks after receipt of the invoice.
12. Twenty-five free offprints of each contribution will be mailed to the first named or corresponding author of that contribution. Additional offprints can be ordered in accordance with the standard prices of the Publisher.
13. The Publisher will have no financial obligations neither towards the Organizing Committee and the Guest Editor(s) nor to the authors, but will make available 10 (ten) free copies of the Proceedings to the Organizing Committee and Guest Editor(s) jointly.
14. The Proceedings will be advertised by the Publisher in his international journals. In addition, the Proceedings will be included in the regular promotion of the Publisher.
15. The copyright of the Proceedings will be vested in Elsevier Science B.V. and the Proceedings will be published under the imprint of North-Holland. The copyright restrictions will be laid down in the copyright transfer forms, according to the attached example.
16. The Publisher will have the opportunity, if he so desires, to exhibit his relevant books and journals for the duration of the conference. If the Publisher wishes to make use of this opportunity, the Organizing Committee will make sufficient space available in a prominent place (e.g., near the registration area), free of charge.
